TIRANA URBAN BUNDLE

Tirana Urban Bundle is part of the public space of Skanderbeg Square that provides initial condition for the citizens of Tirana participation in various social and cultural activities.

It was designed and by students of Polis University of Tirana - International School of Architecture and Urban Development Policies. As part of Tirana Architecture Weeks, Tirana Urban Bundle will be facilitating the ideas of students and young architects from the International Competition for the Tirana Multimodal Station.

This initiative promotes proactive and well-moderated participation as a powerful act that can enhance relations within community and influence social revitalization.

TIRANA DESIGN WEEK

2013_ Made in ALBANIA

Tirana Design Week 2013, being the first event entirely dedicated to design in Albania is created in order to tackle the manifestations of creativity with a specific focus on the contemporary context. During the last 5 years, some very interesting phenomena are emerging in the artistic debate. The global financial crisis and the geopolitical situation created a prolific ground for nationalistic rhetoric and totalitarian visions in Europe. The creative industry and especially design cannot remain indifferent to changes in the general mindset where the richness and diversity of the contemporary society is continually being questioned. Tirana Design Week 2013 intends to investigate the latest expressions of design with the aim to explore new conceptual and practical tools for the coming generation of designers in the region.

Neil Denari is principal of NMDA, Neil M. Denari Architects Inc. After graduate school, Denari interned at Aerospatiale Helicoptres in Paris and later moved to New York, where from 1983-86, he worked for James Stewart Polshek and Partners. While in New York, he exhibited his own research work at the Cooper Hewitt, Storefront, P.S. 1, and the Architectural League. In 1986, he began his teaching career at Columbia University. In 1988, he moved to Los Angeles where his office is based today.

He is the recipient of the Los Angeles AIA Gold Medal in 2011 and in 2010, Denari was inducted into the Interior Design Hall of Fame. In 2009, he was given the California Community Foundation Fellowship from the United States Artists organization and in 2008 he received an Architecture Award from the American Academy of Arts & Letters. His work has been included in exhibitions, including the solo shows Fast Forward in 2008 at the Museum of the City of New York, Architects' Work: HL23 in 2009 at Syracuse University, and The Artless Drawing in 2010 at Ace Gallery Los Angeles, and in 2013, he was included in the New Sculpturalism at MOCA Los Angeles. His work is included in the permanent collection of eight major museums around the world.

With NMDA, Denari works on building projects in North America, Europe and Asia. In 2012, NMDA won first prize in the New Keelung Harbor Service Building competition, a building set to enter construction in Fall 2014. NMDA have also recently won the commission for the Wildwood Middle and Upper School campus in Los Angeles.

Denari lectures worldwide and has been a Visiting Professor at Harvard, Princeton, Columbia, and UC Berkeley among other schools and was the Director of SCI-Arc from 1997-2002. He is the author of Interrupted Projections (1996), Gyroscopic Horizons (1999), and Mass X (2014), an 850-page multigraph, and director/editor of Megavoids, published by the A.U.D in

_GLASS DESIGN_

The image shows a workshop setup with various tools and materials on a table, including a ruler, pens, and pieces of colored glass. Below this is a conceptual diagram illustrating the process of 'transcribing' a cityscape into a glass design. It consists of three numbered boxes: 1. 'city' showing a photograph of a building with a checkered facade; 2. 'scape' showing a line drawing of a grid pattern; 3. 'transcript' showing a pink square with a large white 'X' over it. The boxes are connected by a plus sign and an equals sign.

Responding to the theme of TDW – Tirana Design Week 2015 - Design Now!!! that provokes and invites young Albanian Designers to promote their works drawing the future of the Albanian Design Internationally, "MADE IN POLIS" exhibition reveals its academic investigation and selection of research works in the course of "Industrial Design" by students of POLIS University, leaded and assisted by architects and designers: Endrit Marku, Joana Dhamandi, Luis Kaqinoli, Lorin Çekerezi, Renis Batalli and Ermal Bezhani, that though their guidance attempted to contextualize the global contemporary design for the Albanian society. An effort to create standards in the Albanian Industrial Design processes that for many years weren't in practice.

TREE OF MEMORIES

Mother Teresa square is a mixed use area land , we see this pavilion like a path through the area of square , a path of mind storming and memory travelling , if you were in the stadium and you have watched a nice game you can write down a memory about that and keep it in a beautiful balloon fruit hinged to the tree of memories , even if you were in the museum or in the park or passing through the square , you might got a memory of some one else from our tree pavilion , thus all people who been there in the Mother Teresa Square , they will remember you someday or maybe be thankful to you because they had a grafful advice from your memory balloon , Share your memory , share your balloon *

function:
entertaining
people that are gathering
around the square

Mother Theresa square is very well located with stadium, university and parks nearby and in the end of viewing axis. There are many people sitting with friends or family around this square. This installation is designed to entertain these people. It is a wooden construction with four wooden frames with customizable height. Frames are filled with membrane that could be lightened in the evening. You can create public cinema that is changing into infokiosk or maybe place where you can find shadow only by changing the height of frames. The foundation of this construction is a simple wooden box filled with sand. The height of this construction is 3-6m (depends on height of frames). The size of sandbox is 5,4x5,4m. You can customize the height of frames only by pulling the wire and placing it around wooden construction. Building a sandbox in the centre of square might provoke many other activities like building sandcastle or just placing a hammock. Lighting these wooden frames as well creates many possibilities like playing game of shadows, watching favorite movies or promote Tirana Design Week. The success of this project depends on way of using it by People of Tirana.
