

IPSSC +
CMBO

STUDENTS' CONFERENCE

Jožef Stefan International Postgraduate School and Young Researchers' Day CMBO

19 and 20 April

Comparison of Arugula (Eruca sativa Mill.) and Escarole (Cichorium endivia L.) Interactions with Foliar- and Root-Applied Platinum Nanoparticles

Eva Kranjc,
Jožef Stefan Postgraduate School

Poster number: 16

Gardens in the Krakovo district. Photo by E. Kase.

Paris Medics on Alert amid Air Pollution Crisis

Fri, Dec 9, 2016

By Associated Press

[<http://gems.com>]

The hospital authority remained cautious in a statement about singling out a cause, but noted the health threats from the kind of particulate matter pollution currently blanketing Paris.

Arugula

?

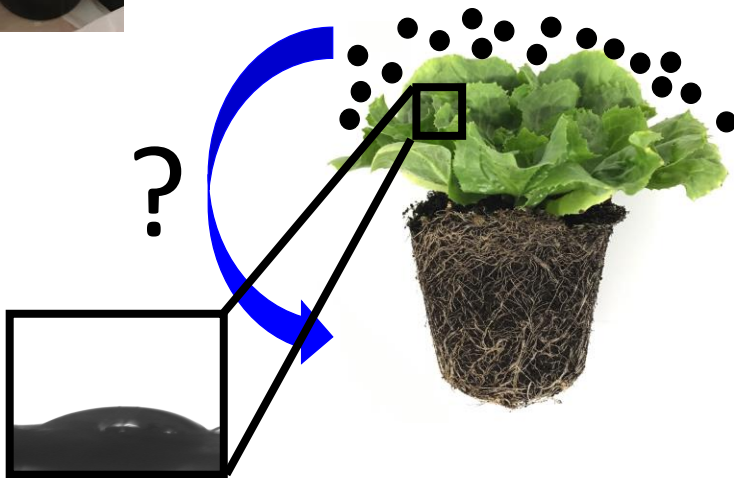

?

Pt NPs

[Photo credit: pete bakes!]

Escarole

?

?

1)

2)

A 65 to 600 ft wide buffer may reduce particulate pollution by 40 to 75 percent although many factors will affect pollutant removal

[<http://nac.unl.edu>]

3)

[<http://www.jennynybropeterson.com>]