Selecting Creative Commons License for your videos (Step 1)

The screenshot shows the YouTube account settings interface. At the top left is the YouTube logo with a search icon. To the right of the logo is a search bar and a search icon. Further right are buttons for 'Upload', a settings gear icon, and the user's email 'openedws@gmail.com' next to a profile picture icon. On the left side, there is a sidebar menu under 'ACCOUNT SETTINGS' with options: 'Overview' (highlighted in red), 'Connected accounts', 'Privacy', 'Email', 'Playback', and 'Connected TVs'. The main content area is titled 'Overview' and contains the following sections:

- Account information
 - Name: openedws@gmail.com Create a channel

Selecting Creative Commons License for your videos (Step 2)

Selecting Creative Commons License for your videos (Step 3)

The screenshot shows the YouTube Studio interface. At the top left is the YouTube logo with a search bar and an 'Upload' button. The user's email 'openedws@gmail.com' and profile icon are in the top right. A left sidebar contains navigation options: VIDEO MANAGER, COMMUNITY, CHANNEL SETTINGS (with sub-options: Features, Defaults, Fan Finder), ANALYTICS, and CREATION TOOLS. A 'Sending feedback' button is at the bottom of the sidebar. The main content area is titled 'Upload Defaults' and includes a 'Save' button. Below the title is a subtitle: 'Set defaults below for future uploads. These settings can be overridden on individual videos.' The settings are as follows: Privacy is set to 'Public'; Category is 'Choose category'; Licence is 'Creative Commons - Attribution'; Title and Description are empty text boxes; Tags is an empty text box; and Comments and responses are checked with 'All' selected for the comment filter. The 'Comments and responses' section includes three checked options: 'Allow comments', 'Users can vote on comments', and 'Users can view ratings for this video'.

Selecting Creative Commons License for your videos (Step 4)

The screenshot shows the YouTube video upload settings page. At the top left is the YouTube logo with a search bar and an 'Upload' button with a gear icon. The main content area is titled 'PROCESSING DONE' and features a 'Publish' button. A message states 'Click "Publish" to make your video live.' and 'Draft saved.' Below this are two tabs: 'Basic info' (selected) and 'Advanced settings'. The 'Basic info' section contains three text input fields: the first contains 'Snowboarding 1', the second contains 'Snowboarding in the mountains', and the third contains 'Snowboarding x'. To the left of the main content is a video thumbnail and 'Upload status' information, including a URL: 'http://youtu.be/8gSS9n4oCl4'. Below the status is a warning about audio/video sync issues. To the right is a 'Share on Google+' panel with a 'Got it' button and social sharing options for Google+, Facebook, and Twitter. At the bottom right is a '+ Add to playlist' button. At the very bottom of the page are 'Video Manager' and '+ Add more videos' buttons.

CC License Chooser: <http://creativecommons.org/choose/>

The image shows a screenshot of the Creative Commons License Chooser interface. It is divided into four main panels:

- License Features: This panel allows users to select license options. It includes two sections: "Allow adaptations of your work to be shared?" with radio buttons for "Yes" (selected), "No", and "Yes, as long as others share alike"; and "Allow commercial uses of your work?" with radio buttons for "Yes" (selected) and "No".
- Selected License: This panel displays the chosen license, "Attribution 4.0 International". It features the CC logo, the person icon, and a green seal that says "APPROVED FOR Works". Below the icons, it states "This is a Free Culture License!".
- Help others attribute you!: This panel is optional and provides fields for adding machine-readable metadata to the HTML. It includes input fields for "Title of work", "Attribute work to name", "Attribute work to URL", "Source work URL", and "More permissions URL".
- Have a web page?: This panel provides a code snippet for embedding the license information on a website. It includes a small CC BY icon and the text: "This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License." Below this, it says "Copy this code to let your visitors know!" and provides the following code:

</pre>
